Enterprise Software Evaluation and Selection

Organizations evaluating software applications are facing a seemingly endless array of vendors, cloud and on-premises platforms, best of breed vs product suite, and pricing options. The evaluation process was simple when the number of alternatives was limited. But businesses now have more choices available to them than ever before.

RadixBay's advisory services team has developed a project-proven product evaluation process to help our clients select the most appropriate software applications for their organization.

From initial project scope and needs analysis to final vendor selection, RadixBay's software evaluation methodology covers the entire application selection process.
